FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL. As has been the case for several days past, the dealings in bonds overshadowed those in stocks. The transactions in bonds were in exceas of $5,500,000 par value, and prices, with only a few exceptions, were higher than those recorded at the close on Saturday. The bond market unquestionably reflects an active legitsecurities, while the stock market is in the main controlled largely by professional opera-Still, there was some buying of stocks to-day by commission houses, which, together with the covering of shorts, resulted in a higher level of prices for nearly the entire list. Railway stocks received relatively more attention than the Industrial shares, though these last were by no means neglected. Atchison preferred was the leader in respect to activity, at a net advance of 1 7 cent. The Granger group received a fair amount of attention, presumabl because of advices from the West of an improving tendency in the rate situation. St. Paul was exceptionally strong, and Chicago and Northwestern and Chicago Great Western preferred A scored noteworthy net advances on moderate transactions. Metropolitan Street Railway en joyed a further net advance of 2 points, based of the company in consequence of the reopen ing of the Sixth and Eighth avenue lines with electric motive power. Of the so-called Pacific stocks Northern Pacific common and Union

Parific preferred were exceptionally strong. In the Industrial group Sugar Refining held the first place so far as activity is concerned and the market for it was very steady throughout. American Tobacco fluctuated rather widely, as usual, and at a reaction of a point from the highest price closed 2 % W cent. higher than on Saturday. Federal Steel issues were comparatively quiet, but very firm, at fractional net advances. Other members of the Industrial group that made noteworthy progresa toward a higher level were Tennessee Coa and Iron and American Malting preferred. The narrow speculation was influenced to an extent by the change in the character of the betting Foreign arbitrage bouses did practically nothing, and fluctuations in the various European markets appeared to have no influence here. The closing was quiet and steady.
